

• On the importance of self-discipline in behavioral economics,
"Before you know it, you are assuming that your cow has twenty-five legs and can thus run faster than your average no-legged cow."
- Heikki Rantakari
hmm...

• Markov equilibrium is a favorite of empirical people who are comfortable with MATLAB.